

Melaka

Hotel Puri

Hotel Puri Melaka is a heritage-boutique hotel in the heart of the old city of Malacca. The hotel is a carefully restored Peranakan house which once belonged to the descendants of an eminent philanthropist and rubber plantation owner, Tan Kim Seng. Extending 100 metres long, one of its unique characteristics are its beautiful and intricately decorated façade and the impressive length of the house. Retaining its old charm, Hotel Puri Melaka provides modern amenities to its hotel guests. It is a 30 minute drive from the North-South Highway (Malacca/Ayer Keroh exit), and 10 minutes from the central bus station. Surrounded by antique and bric-a-brac shops, it is only a stroll away from Malacca's historical precinct.
